Grief Stricken Family Honour Palliative Care Physician

Sophie Bulmer's world changed when tragedy struck her family in October, 2015. That was when she learned that Jaime, her loving husband of 10 years and the father of their three children, was diagnosed with colon cancer. He passed away just a short time later on March 4, 2016 at the young age of 34.

"It has been a difficult year for our family and we are still trying to heal from the devastation of losing such a wonderful and caring father and husband," says Bulmer.

As part of dealing with their profound grief, the family decided to raise money in Jaime's memory (idea originated from oldest son London) and donate it to the Friends of The Moncton Hospital in honour of Dr. Lisa Searle, Jaime's palliative care doctor.

"Those final days were heart wrenching and Dr. Searle had such incredible compassion helping the kids and I through the difficult journey of saying good bye."

A total of $630 was raised through bracelet sales to friends and family.

Sophie and her three children London 10, Lincoln 8 and Aria 5, recently met with Dr. Searle to let her know personally the profound impact she had on them and to express their deep gratitude for the exceptional care she provided to both Jaime and her family.
